

TOP SECRET

OPEN STATEMENTS: The following documents are profiles of the two intruders who invaded TS Laboratories. All findings are based on preliminary data analysis. These findings are strictly confidential and any attempt to replicate or access these files without authorization will result in being grounded for an entire month.

NAME: Nicholas "Nick" Tamayo

AGE: 11

SEX: M

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: The subject has dark hair and tan skin. His primary clothing color is blue, which matches the crystal pendant he wears around his neck.

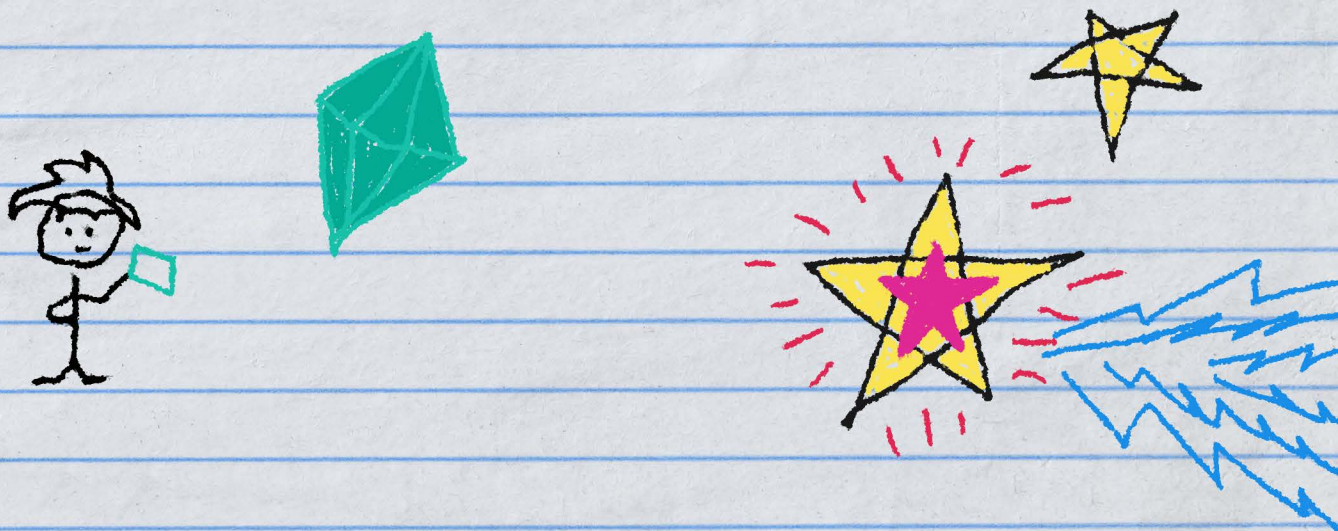

Nick also sports a fanny pack, which increases his storage coefficient but diminishes his fashion score by several percent.

PERSONALITY DESCRIPTION: The subject has a reserved and cautious disposition. He has above-average critical-thinking skills and intelligence but below-average reactionary abilities, lagging in response to sudden and unforeseen situations. Data suggests that the subject is highly vulnerable to common pranks. While the subject has a strong drive to uphold the ideals of justice, personal desires may interfere with this commitment.

SUPERPOWERS: The subject's superpowers primarily wield the opposing forces of creation and destruction. By using what he has dubbed 'Colossal Construction' the subject can synthesize any construct he imagines from a translucent aquamarine substance. It resembles the jello my mother packs in my lunches.

The subject prefers to use his generative ability to conjure staves which he wields in close-quarters combat. This ability is counterbalanced by Colossal Destruction, in which the subject expels an explosive burst that drains a large amount of the user's energy reserves and leaves him in an exhausted state. Therefore, while Colossal Destruction results in a substantial coolness rating spike, it lowers the subject's stamina scoring.

CLOSING NOTES: Abilities may be useful in the manufacturing of new materials if harnessed correctly. May be useful in replacing this notebook once I run out of space to write.

TOP SECRET

NAME: Jacques "Jack" Fromage III

AGE: 11

SEX: M

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: The subject has fair skin, blue eyes, and blonde hair. His color of choice is red, which once more aligns with the hue of his crystal pendant. His backward-pointed hat increases his rebellion score, though his cargo shorts hamper his fashion rating significantly.

PERSONALITY DESCRIPTION: The subject has a very outgoing and carefree disposition. He possesses a notable ability to adapt and act quickly on his feet but behaves impulsively. Preliminary scans suggest the subject has an incredibly smooth, aerodynamic brain. While the subject is drawn to the superhero role, his desire to have fun battles and create destruction may undermine his ability to fulfill his heroic dreams.

SUPERPOWERS: The subject's superpowers allow him to move with incredible quickness. Current instruments have yet to estimate his maximum speed. This incredible quickness is complemented by the subject's ability to generate an electrical charge within his body. Contact with the subject, when charged, poses a serious risk of electrocution... and explosions.

Data is inconclusive as to whether the subject's bio-electrical current can serve as a charging port for my cell phone.

CLOSING NOTES: The subject's abilities may allow for the generation of sustainable, clean energy. However, he must engage in a shower beforehand, otherwise the energy will most likely not be clean.

FINAL THOUGHTS: Based on initial data, neither subject appears classically handsome in the same manner as Dyson Neil, groundbreaking scientist and KPOP star extraordinaire. Due to their cosmetic shortcomings and lack of resemblance to Dyson Neil, both may struggle to garner support from any remaining superhero fans.

SUGGESTED ACTIONS: Apprehend subjects, reprimand them for the destruction of TS laboratories, and encourage them to develop a fashion sense.
